

Search & Rescue

Search & rescue is a responsibility that should always be considered first when responding to an emergency. When there is an obvious rescue, it is important that the search team locates the victim and removes them to safety as quickly as possible. Proper search techniques can improve operating efficiency. After completing this lesson, the student shall be able to explain and demonstrate different search and rescue operations such as:

- Traditional Search Methods
- Wide Area Searches
- TIC assisted Searches
- Vent Enter Isolated Searches
- Victim Removal Techniques
